Profile:

Ginny Cascio Bonifacino is Of Counsel with McMillan Metro, P.C. She provides practical legal advice to help her clients pursue their passions, protect their ideas, and achieve their goals. With experience as outside counsel for small to mid-market companies on both the east and west coast, she primarily focuses on corporate, intellectual property (trademark and copyright right), employment, and artist's right law. Previously, she worked for McMillan Metro – as an associate and Of Counsel – for several years before moving to the San Francisco Bay Area. While in California, she worked for a local firm handling corporate, employment and intellectual property matters. While in law school, Ginny worked with the President of the Chicago History Museum and General Counsel of the National Endowment of the Arts in Washington D.C. on a variety of business, employment, and intellectual property issues. She also clerked for Judge Glenn T. Harrell of the Maryland Court of Appeals and Judge Richard Cudahy of the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit. Through the DePaul University Technology/Intellectual Property Clinic, she had the opportunity to advise clients on copyright and trademark issues, and continues to pursue her interests in helping artists by performing pro bono work through the Washington Area Lawyers for the Arts and Maryland Volunteer Lawyers for the Arts.
