Dear Clients and Colleagues,

At McMillan Metro, the safety and wellbeing of our employees, clients and colleagues is of utmost importance. As the information regarding the Coronavirus changes daily, and we all do our best to make good decisions for our firm, our employees and our clients, we want to take this opportunity to assure you that we are here for you and remain committed to serving your needs.

Our attorneys and staff will be working during this challenging time to ensure that you have the legal support that you need. Even when the decision is made to work remotely, we will continue working for you, providing the level of service that you have grown accustomed to receiving from our attorneys and staff to the best of our ability.

If you have questions or concerns of any sort, please contact your attorney. We value our relationship with you and we remain committed to providing you with the legal service and personal support you require.

We wish you well as you navigate this challenging time and we send our best wishes for your continued good health and the good health of your family and your business. Do not hesitate to reach out to us. We truly are all in this together.

Sincerely,
