Profile:

Natasha Nazareth is Of Counsel with McMillan Metro, P.C., with over 20 years of experience in Corporate & Business Law, Employment Law & Litigation, and Education Law. Natasha understands that the law can be incredibly complex and works to offer her clients principled advice and practical strategies that are tailor-made for their unique legal challenges. Advising businesses about their full range of challenges is one of Natasha's strengths, and she enjoys assisting clients with labor and employment issues, contracts, risk management, regulatory compliance, non-profit and tax-exempt law, governance, bylaws and board policies.

Natasha has been honored as a Fellow of the Maryland Bar Foundation in recognition for her demonstrated outstanding dedication to the welfare of her community, the administration of justice, and the traditions of the objectives of the Bar of Maryland.

Natasha is particularly passionate about investing in high-quality schools that prepare diverse students for their 21st century global future and she appreciates the business of education and the people who make a daily difference in the lives of young people. In the past, she has been General Counsel to a University of North Carolina system campus and the Bullis School in Potomac, Maryland, where she also led human resources and the learning support program. Natasha continues to provide general counsel services to a variety of independent schools, businesses and nonprofits. She also represents individual families, students and faculty/staff to assert their rights in schools and universities, as well as employees who have been discriminated against in the workplace. She is also a former Adjunct Law Professor at North Carolina Central University School of Law.

Natasha's guiding principles are service, simplicity and satisfaction. Whether you hire her to explore new ventures, resolve a conflict, or optimize your operations, she will quickly build a relationship with you, listen carefully, and understand your needs as an organization, family or individual.
